Vintage Computer Festival East 2019

May 3-4-5

InfoAge Science & History Center

2201 Marconi Rd., Wall, N.J., 07719

Agenda:

- Friday: Tech classes and special Unix track
- Sat./Sun.: Exhibit halls, vendors, consignment, museum open, software store, learn-to-solder, single-board computer kits, and much more!
- Tickets available online and at the door; free for age 17 and younger

Keynotes:

- Friday afternoon: Steve Bellovin, USENET/computer security
- Saturday morning: Ken Thompson, co-inventor of Unix
- Sunday morning: Joe Decuir, Atari/Commodore engineer

Data:

- For full details visit: www.vcfed.org/vcfeast
- Contact: Evan Koblentz, evan@vcfed.org, (646) 546-9999
- Proceeds benefit: Vintage Computer Federation and InfoAge Science & History Center (both are 501(c)(3) non-profit organizations)

Special thanks to:

- Hackaday
- Association for Computing Machinery
- IEEE History Center